CREWS AT WORK FOR ANNUAL RACE

Rivalry Is Intense Between Rival Boat Clubs at Washington

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Lexington, Va., March 24 .- The university boat crews will get to work River has been the scene of general activity as seen as the weather was good enough to permit rowing. The Washington and Lee course is so short that it is impossible for an eight-oar shell to run, and the river is so narge of the seen and the seen and the river is so narge of the seen and the seen as peed skater over ten years, and has beaten every racer of note in that it is impossible for an eight-oar shell could not seen a cight-oar shell could not seen an eight-oar shell could not seen as peed skater over ten years, and has beaten every racer of note in that it is impossible for an eight-oar shell could not seen an ei row that an eight-oar shell could not turn around. But the four-oared crews are the centre of a great deal of in-terest every year. There are two boat clubs within the university itself, and the interest in them is as great as in a race between crews of another school. Every man in the university has the success of one crew at heart, and there are many applicants for each crew.

and there are many applicants for each crew.

The rivalry between the Albert Sidney and the Harry Lee Clubs is a peculiar institution at Washington and Lee It is doubtful if there is another place in the country which has a sport wholly within the school which commands half of the enthusiasm that the annual race does at Lexington. The grace rowed during the final week, when all forms of athletics are over and there is nothing to draw athletic attention but this. For thirty years this race has been one of the features of commencement, and it promises to continue for many more. The whole country and town turn out to see the finish, and the island is a gay scene, with the red and blue banners flying everywhere, for each spectator has a favorite.

Last year the river was so full of drift and so swollen by rain that the event had to be called off. This year finds three of the old Harry Lee crew in college and one of the Albert Sidney. The strenuous work of getting in shape for three months for a race lasting five minutes is now on, and all the men are keen for the fray. Although the race is not intercollegiate, the members of both crews are awarded a monogram, and they are as proud of it as the star baseball players. For boating is a feature in itself. The winning stroke gets a handsome medal. This in memory of Henry Hall, who stroked the Harry Lee nine years ago.

JEFFERSON WINS

Richmond School Defeated in Game at Charlottesville by Score of 7 to 3.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Charlottesville, Va., March 24.—At the Horse Show grounds this afternoon Jefferson School affected McGuire's School, of Richmond, 7 to 2.
Vandiver twirled for the victors, and held the Richmonders to five scattered hits. He issued five passes. Carroll was in the box for McGuire's, and though steadler than Vandiver, was touched up for a total of seven hits, including a double by Bolling. was the fight for supremacy in the first indoor track meet to be given by the Richmond Light Infantry Blues. But I is doesn't tell the story of the enthusiasm which prevalled, nor of the good races which the athletes representing the two contestants put up.

There may have been bigger and better meets held in Richmond. In fact, there have been such, but there has never been a meet in which the rivalry was so keen or which attracted. Richmond College, 37; Blues, 35.

lap. Waddill ran a pretty race, but was no match for Vaughan, who is a youngster with great promise as a middle distance runner. IIIs time was not fast, but he was a good half lap in the lead, and running easy at the finish.

Not only did he win the mile run, but in the half-mile run he repeated the performance, setting such a pace as to wear down Waddill, who quit on the last lap after making a great spurt. Vaughan is destined to become a track star if he keeps at it.

The only thing which could possi-bly have been construed as an unpleasant occurrence came in the 600-yard run, when Gary, who was running a great race, fouled the man in front or him, being disqualified. While it was unintentional, it was clearly a foul, and the referee had little hesitancy in Excepting in the sprints no fast time

Richmond Academy and McGuire's to put teams in the field. As it was, in the scholastic events John Marshall High School had no opponent and went through the events largely for practice. They have a great track team at the high school, and the speed of Cosby and Wallerstein and Kling was probably the answer to the refusal on the part of their natural opponents.

The relay race between the Blues and the College was rather tame. Gary, who led off for the College, gave the race to Wilson, who followe. him with a good lead. Wilson increased this lead, and Strother opened the gap wider, while Taylor finish a good forty yards ahead off rurke, the last runner for the soldiers.

Frank Chance Favors Giants For Pennant

Atlanta, Ga., March 24.—Manager Frank Chance, of the champion Chicago Cubs, appears to share the popular belief that the Glants are going to be a tough club to beat in 1911.

In 1911.

"McGraw will have some good pitching this senson, or I miss my guess," says Chance. "Mathewson ought to be just as good as be ever was for ten years longer. Ames and Wiltse ought to do well, while Crandall can bent the second division teams as often as they stick him in against them.

"As for the Cuba Land."

In against them.

"As for the Cubs, I can't tell yet what to expect. It looks as though we had picked up a couple of good youngsters, and I hope that we will be stronger than in 1910. Cinetnanti may make some trouble, but I look for the Glants to make the real fight, and figure that if we can head this bunch it will be another bit of bunting for the West Side fingpole."
